HALE'S BEAUTY, BRAINS AND TALENT

Hairstyling Show Sparks With Beauty

"Fantasy" was the key word in this year's exciting hairstyling show, "Hair Flair", presented by the Beauty Culture Department under the direction of Miss Schwartz and Mr. Albi.

With all the glamour of a professional show, Sarah Hale's girls walked down a carpeted ramp while softly playing music set the mood, and modeled the colorful and artistically created styles. Among the dazzling array of coiffures were the Valentine Heart, the Pagoda, the Mystic Swan, and from a page in history, the Marie Antoinette.

Photographers from the World-Telegram and Sun were on hand to take pictures of the models and hairstyles which were printed in the paper. It was a fine tribute to a job well done by talented students.

Physical Fitness At Hale Part Of Nationwide Program

The beginning of this term was sparked with the exciting performance of Sarah Hale's girls in the "Physical Fitness Program" sponsored by the Health Education Department. Prompted by President Kennedy's request for physically fit youth, the girls did exercises, stunts and four different types of dances which certainly demonstrated their state of physical fitness.

Under the heading of exercises and stunts, were such feats as the "human pyramid" directed by Mrs. Blandon. A little of English folklore, "My Fine Companion", and some "good old days" in the "Twelfth Street Rag" were evident. Both dances were under the direction of Mrs. Hume. As familiar as the Scotch plaid was the dance, "Highland Fling", performed by smartly dressed girls who also did a cute number called "Busybody". Miss Kaplan had reason to be proud of her group.

The applause that filled the auditorium after the program was proof of the audience's enjoyment. Here's hoping the rest of our girls and the nation will be equally inspired to do their share in keeping America "physically fit".

Honor Society Installs
New Members

In the traditionally beautiful and inspiring ceremony, Sarah J. Hale's Honor Society inducted its new members before assemblies of parents, teachers and students.

At the Junior Honor Society installation, 19 deserving girls were awarded their certificates and pins. The candidate with the highest scholastic average was Maedell McDonald. The 27 new members of the Senior Honor Society were presented with beautiful gold charms by their "big sisters". Lorraine Fiscina attained the highest scholastic rating among the Senior Honor Society members.

The solemn processional, the lovely songs, and the meaningful speeches were an inspiration to all those girls of Hale who still have the opportunity to achieve the excellence of Honor Society members.

Miss Drew's Corner

March 28, 1962

Dear Girls,

You are now well on the way to the midpoint of the Spring Term, and thoughts of success in your studies and recommendations for good citizenship should be filling your mind. This has been a very full, active term with many excellent Assembly Programs put on by the separate departments.

Many students participated in making our group projects successful. You are also capable of improving and developing yourself in order to make this school year a successful one in terms of good ratings, special achievements and good personal relationships.

May Spring bring an acceleration in growth and blossoming to all!

> Sincerely, MARY L. DREW

FACULTY FACTS

Most of you have probably been wondering what has become of Mr. Lewittes, Hale's wonderful English and Social Studies Chairman. Well, although we all miss him very much, we are proud to know that he has been asked to do some important work for the Board of Education for the rest of this term. Mr. Lewittes has left his English department in the very capable hands of Miss Dorothy Hutchisson, while the Social Studies division is being skillfully guided by Mrs. Rebe Sanit.

The newest addition to the Beauty Culture department is Mrs. Angeline Romano. Born and raised in Brooklyn, Mrs. Romano attended - you guessed it - Sarah J. Hale. After working for eleven years in the field she has finally returned to teach here. Mrs. Romano enjoys listening to good music and counts among her favorite vocalists, Johnny Mathis, Connie Francis and Perry Como. She is also a faithful T.V. fan. Welcome to Hale, Mrs. Romano.

NIGHT TRAFFIC AT HALE

By Nilsa Cruz

Have you ever wondered what goes on at Sarah J. Hale at night?

After the last class has been dismissed in the afternoon, peace and tranquility descend upon the halls of Hale. This quiet, however, is short-lived; for, with the coming of night, our school once more comes alive with the hustle and bustle of student traffic.

Night school in Sarah Hale began when the school first opened in 1931 and has given many adults the opportunity to become citizens and to earn the elementary diploma they need to hold certain jobs.

In addition to English for the foreign born, a remedial reading course is available to adults with special reading problems. Of special interest to many is a class for lip reading offered to the hard of hearing. Finally, in classes which parallel the work of our Fashion Arts Department, tailoring, draping, garment machine operating, pattern making, and millinery are offered.

The doors of Sarah Hale are open to night school students on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 7 P.M. to 9 P.M.

LEND A HELPING HAND

Have you ever wondered why we have laws in society? The answer is very simple. Laws are established for the good and protection of all people. In order to be sure everyone follows those laws special agencies, such as the police force, are set up by the citizens themselves.

A school is a very small society in itself and functions similarly to the larger one in which we live. At Sarah J. Hale, in order to insure the good and protection of all the girls, we have established certain rules. girls whose duty it is to be sure the school operates as smoothly and safely as possible, are our G.O. lieutenants. Any girl who qualifies can serve her school and her fellow classmates by becoming a lieutenant. We should be proud of them for the time and effort they sacrifice. Let us show our appreciation by cooperating with them in the halls, in the cafeteria, in the auditorium. within Sarah J. Hale so that our school will be a society of happy, responsible citizens.

Question: How can the girls of Sarah Hale improve their appearance?

Answers: In my opinion, the girls could dress more neatly and take more pride in what they wear. In addition, many of the hairstyles are too extreme for school.

Gloria Abbate, 81A
The skirts the girls wear are much too short and too tight.
The girls could also afford to comb out some of the teasing.

Milagros Rodriguez, 23A
The girls should improve their whole general appearance. Some think that because they go to an all girls school they don't have to worry about the way they look.
Linda Cruz, 46P

The hems on some skirts should be pulled down and hairstyles should be those of school girls not movie stars. The make-up should also be appropriate for school.

ANN MARGRET - BIG HIT IN"STATE FAIR"

by Carmen Martinez Carmen Casellas

Ann Margret, the new screen sensation added to the list of teenage idols, is a smash hit in Rodgers and Hammerstein's "State Fair". How do we know? Simple! * We were invited by Twentieth Century Fox Studios to preview the film, meet the star in person, and watch the showing of the screen test which destined her + for stardom.

Interesting Background

During our interview, tlearned that Ann Margret was born in Stockholm, Sweden, in 1941 and + came to America at the age of six. A very talented youngster, she took ballet lessons, singing + lessons and piano lessons. She attended Northwestern University + in Sweden. Skiing, on snow and * water, is her favorite pastime.

Hollywood Lights

Ann Margret's first profes-+ sional engagement was at the age * of 17 in a small hotel club in . Sweden. It was there that she + got her first real break. A Hol- * lywood agent saw her act, liked it, and sent her for a job in Las+ Vegas. In spite of the long trip she had to turn back because. there was no opening for her at + the time. When an opening finally came she was booked by the Sands Hotel. From there she be- + gan her climb to fame with contracts from R.C.A. Victor and Twentieth Century Fox. Her la- * test long playing album is titled * "Chicago", and she was recently seen in "Pocketful of Miracles".

"State Fair"

"State Fair". the musical + which we previewed, turned out to be delightful entertainment. The .. story is about a lovable Texas+ family caught up in all the fun * and excitement of a state fair. The film has all the elements to+ make its viewing worthwhile; * breathtaking scenery, loads of ... laughs, a few good tears, a won-+ derful love story, and thrilling * music. We recommend "State Fair" * and Ann Margret's performance + highly for adults and youngsters alike. *************

HEALTH CAREERS NEWS

by Nilsa Cruz

The Nursing Department girls are really given an apportunity to further their knowledge, not only by studying books, but by actually putting into practice what they learn.

For example, in connection with child care, the students attend Cleveland House, Colony House, Y.W.C.A., Low Memorial, and other institutions for half a day where they help instructors and are responsible for the children. The seniors in the Cooperative Nursing Program are affiliated with Kings County Hospital and Brooklyn Eye and Ear. Thev work at the hospitals every day for two weeks and earn approximately $88-$108 for that period.

The types of jobs for which the girls qualify upon graduation from this Health Career Program are: Public Health Assistants

Dietary Aids Nursery School Aids Ward Clerks Nurses' Aids

Girls taking the nursing course have a great opportunity to further their studies by applying to practical nursing schools and schools for professional nursing. How about it, girls? Have you thought of nursing as a career?

FASHION MERRY-GO-ROUND

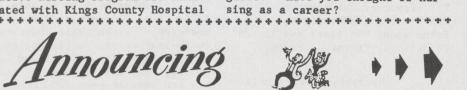

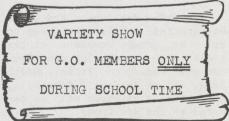

It was a great honor for the Fashion Arts Department when Sarah J. Hale received a Certificate of Appreciation from the Easter Seal Society. The award was presented in gratitude for the bunny costumes which Costume Design girls made for the drive for crippled children.

The next big event that our "young designers" are going to participate in is the exciting Spring Fashion Show to be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel New Yorker on May 10. The girls of Sarah Hale will have the opportunity of previewing spring and summer fashions on May 18 when the students of trade dressmaking and costume design model the styles they worked on this term in a fashion show under the direction of Mrs. Clarke.

By the way, girls, did you know that Bessy Fouasis is our school's representative to the Abraham & Straus Junior Fashion Board? She has been attending meetings once a month and has found her job as representative interesting, informative and lots of fun. Bessy's latest news is that A & S will be offering a 4week course to teenagers interested in learning the art of applying make-up. Apply at A & S for further information.

Incidentally, every girl in our school can receive, free of charge, the teen-bulletin, "Junior Journal", published by A & S by just giving her name to Bessy. You can find her during the official period in Room 127.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL

Assembly Programs

by Anne Montana, 61A

Since the beginning of the Spring term, we have had several varied and interesting Assembly programs. Each program served a definite purpose.

The very first Assembly was an Awards Assembly, in which the students received certificates for scholarship, service, and attendance. Seven girls had 100% attendance for the term beginning September 1961 and ending January 1962. They were: Filomena Chiarello, Lucille Campisi, Angela DeSanto, Dolores Iaci, Dorothy Longo, Edith Ianiro, and Geraldine Resba. The highest average in the entire fifth term was attained by Josephine Curriera. Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Weissman distributed the awards to deserving students.

The next Assembly was a Panel Discussion of Teen-Age Problems. The Panel was composed of students who are on the Student Council, and the audience also participated. This program was arranged by Mr. Olk, G.O. Coordinator of the Annex.

Our recent program on Brotherhood was one of the best ones we have ever had. Along with appropriate songs and commentary about Brotherhood, there were two original compositions read by Rose Martinez and Barbara Salta. This program was brought to the girls through the courtesy of Mrs. King Mr. Gaston and class 61A.

Our last Assembly program was arranged by Mr. Olk with the cooperation of the Bell Telephone Company. This was a documentary film on the use of satellites for communication, and an orbital flight of the earth.

IT'S WONDERFUL!!

Junior Red Cross

The drive for Junior Red Cross has started. It's gratifying to see the prompt response of the girls when we ask for donations for the fund. On Friday, March 23rd, we are holding a Cake Sale, the proceeds of which will be donated to the Red Cross.

My Interview with Mrs. Casas by Josephine Curriera, 61A

My interview with Mrs. Casas was indeed a pleasurable and interesting one. We discussed many things pertaining to the sixth term Beauty Culture classes in the Annex.

It was stated that the sixth term is a very important and enjoyable time for the Beauty Culture student. One of the most fascinating events that will take place is the annual trip to a hair-coloring institute. These visits are vital to all students who wish to be able to truly appreciate what their course involves. As in any field of study it is what you put into it that measures the knowledge needed for future success. Mrs. Casas emphasized how important the effort of the student is.

Honor Society Welcomes New Members

The following girls will be installed as members of the Arista Honor Society: Lucille Campisi, Kathleen Contessa, Josephine Curriera, Angela DeSanto, Rose Gambardella, Dolores Iaci, Annette Saverese, and Mary Ann

On April 14, these girls will become members of the Junior Honor Society: Nancy Braverman, Arlene Marano, Delia Pugliese, Dorothy Willers, Stephanie Zigmantus, Ann Youron, Margaret Zaccario and Johanna Inghilterra.

Congratulations and wishes on achieving such fine scholastic records!

Did You Know???

Helene Nastro, a Junior at the Annex, is a champion amateur roller skater. Although only sixteen years old, Helene, who has been skating since 1955, holds the New York State title, the Northeastern Region title and the United States title. Recently, Helene broke her leg while practicing for a competition; nevertheless, she attends school every day and is a fine student. Although she is such an excellent skater, Helene maintains that skating is just a hobby and that her career will be in Beauty Culture. Good luck!

We have students entered in the Prize Essay Competition of the New York Chamber of Commerce. The topic is "U.N. - Our Best Hope for World Peace?" Our hopefuls are: Josephine Curriera, Rose Gambardella, Anne Montana, and Kathleen Contessa.

The Annex took part in the count-down of Colonel Glenn's orbital flight. We watched the flight, which was exciting as well as educational, from beginning to end. For days the flight was the subject of great discus-

Lovely Sarah Hale models; in Beauty Culture "Hair Flair".

Have you been looking for the Cosmetic Corner? It is now located on the second floor, Room 216, where hours for sales are posted. Mrs. Gimplowitz feels that the new location for the store offers better opportunity for sales since it is larger and is not hampered by any class. In all sales you can be assured of the lowest prices on first quality items. Try buying and see for yourself!

and talent to represent Sarah

Hale in this marvelous show.

Welcome to the Beauty Culture Department of Sarah J. Hale, Mrs. Romano. We certainly hope you have found teaching us as enjoyable an experience as we have had learning from you.

Just for the record, we now have in the Beauty Culture Department eight beauty culture rooms and seventeen beauty culture and cosmetology teachers.

I guess that takes care of what is going on "under the dryers". See you next edition:

D.E. NEWS FILE

D.E.C.A. girls whose Creative Marketing Project placed among top 6 in U.S.

SARAH J. HALE IN U.S. TOP SIX

The Creative Marketing Project a research study prepared by four D.E. seniors who are members of D.E.C.A., has been chosen as one of the six best in the United States. A student representative from Sarah Hale, Frances Corujo, has been invited to appear in Chicago on April 26, 27, 28, to make a speech about the project. Sonia Suarez, Gloria Johnson, Hilda Casulduc and Carmen Medina were the students in charge of making the study.

The lipstick merchandise manual prepared by Mary Green and Susie Smith was considered excellent by judges of the New York City elimination contest held at Long Island University early in March. The D.E. seniors are looking forward to even greater success in the regular D.E.C.A. contest yet to come.

"Dress Right". That's the new battle cry of all Distributive Education girls in their campaign to help improve teenage dress habits. Every Friday, the girls must come to school dressed as they would be for work. They are graded on their general appearance and must be in the proper attire. Many of the teachers have commented favorably on how attractive the girls look. The students feel that "this campaign has helped in encouraging the proper choice of clothing and the use of good grooming hints to the best advantage."

If I had a million dollars I would be the most conceited and the most selfish person in the world. I would buy clothes, jewelry, have my hair done every two days, and add thousands of records to my collection. I would have gigantic mirrors on my bedroom walls and have my name engraved on my bed and filled in with gold. I would put diamond taps on all my shoes and have gold seamed nylons. I would buy furs, silks, satins, and gold wrist watches. I would get the most beautiful car in the world to drive when I'm old enough. Of course it would be a convertible. just so I could attract the attention of millionaires. Every year I would take a trip around the world. And every evening I would eat and dance with handsome rich men who would be twisted around my little finger. Every night I would get a proposal from some handsome, rich "Romeo" only to turn him down and break his heart. Oh, yes, if I had a million dollars, I would be rich....

and also unhappy, miserable, sel-

Mr. Reime, our wonderful school custodian, has been with Sarah Hale for seven years. He came to us from P.S. 102 in Bay Ridge and has worked in schools for 27 years. Thanks to him and his hard-working staff we can really be proud of our school.

Our school is an interesting source of statistics. For instance, while talking to Mr. Reime, we discovered that the building has about 200 radiators and 34 univents.

We also have 150 steps on each staircase, 1,300 electric outlets, 200 tables in classrooms, 500 table chairs, 75 clocks, 50 classrooms, 1,300 light bulbs, 602 door knobs, 28 fire extinguishers, 30 bulletin boards, 100 waste baskets, 50 mirrors, 40 internal telephones, 6 outside phones, 450 closets, 73 speakers, 60 lunchroom tables, and 6,000 library books.

CLUB DOIN'S

Basketball Club

Good News! We now have a Basketball Club. The club is for girls who are interested in learning and improving basketball techniques or in officiating. A basketball tournament is now being held in which girls from all terms can participate either as a team or as individuals of a particular term. The winners of the tournament will win a trophy. Come up and help win a trophy for your term. Meetings are on Thursdays from 3:30 to 4:30 in the gym under the direction of Miss Kaplan.

D.E. Council

The D.E. Council has been very active this term - sixty members, accompanied by Mr. Ginsberg and Mr. Koffler saw "El Cid". The Council was privileged to hear Miss Muriel Mahon, Employment Representative of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. speak on "The Employable Personality and Those Qualities the Employer Seeks". Plans for the future will include previews of new filmstrips to be evaluated for class use.

Leaders Club

The Leaders Club is really on the go this term. They have attended a play day in basketball and a tennis exhibition and are sending two select members of the club to the Leaders Luncheon at which all the schools in the city will be represented. Also planned on a city-wide basis is a Leaders Club Weekend. Don't you wish you could be the lucky girl to attend? Join the Leaders Club now. They meet on Mondays at 3:30 in the gym under the supervision of Mrs. Hume.

Sarah Hale Players

"Our actresses this term won"t have any acting to do," said Mr. Albi, dramatics coach. There are, however, several activities planned for the group. The Sarah Hale Players will sponsor the annual speech contest. The G.O. Variety Show will be holding auditions after the Easter vacation All girls who would like to join the Sarah Hale Players will have the opportunity to do so in the fall.

Dance Club

What girl doesn't enjoy being creative? Well, the Dance Club offers you the chance to be just that. Perhaps you're the kind of person who can't seem to get any exercise? Well, then this club is the solution to your problem, too! If you are interested in having fun, being creative, and doing some exercise, why not drop in on one of the Dance Club meetings on Wednesdays from 3:30 to 4:15?

Academic Council

Good news! The Academic Council, under the direction of Miss Hutchisson, will be having its annual "Favorite Poem Contest". Three poems will be selcted for all English classes to choose from. Last year the girls of Hale chose "Annabel Lee" as their favorite poem. Here's hoping the selection will be as good this year.

KNOW YOUR LIBRARY

Did you know that there are 6,000 books in our library? Some time in April there will be 200 new books, packed with adventure, romance, excitement and valuable knowledge, added to the shelves. Incidentally, the 16 girls that work in the library have certainly done a wonderful job in keeping the books arranged neatly; however, Mrs. Bengert asked that the girls who borrow books handle them with more consideration since many of the library books are being seriously abused and damaged.

CONTINUATION SCHOOL NEWS

by Hilda Smith

Hurray! for the 800 girls in Continuation School whose good attendance helped win the award for the highest attendance record of all continuation schools.

I guess this award really proves how much these girls value the opportunity to complete their education. Although they attend classes only once a week, from 8 A.M. to 12 noon, they may choose either a beauty culture or commercial course of study. A work placement counselor helps the girls get very good jobs and the teachers of continuation school offer excellent guidance which enables them to become employed. Many of the girls who attend continuation school 'graduate" with a maturity which recognizes and truly values education which school has offered

PLEASE NOTE!

Is your name listed among those having 100% attendance?

No?? Well, it could be. All you have to do is come to school every day during the term, and you, too, will be awarded a certificate for 100% attendance as these and many other girls were last June.

Mrs. Greenberg, attendance coordinator, points out that a good attendance record is important for a successful future. She also reminds us that a gold pin is waiting for those graduating seniors who have had perfect attendance throughout their three or four years at Sarah J. Hale.

RAIN

It starts gently with a soft, steady beat. The rain comes and plays its music, and the world sings out in her joy. Over and over, the wind whispers its welcome and the earth opens her arms and receives the gift of life. She sighs in her happiness, for once more she will conceive and all will be young and green.

Then follows the stillness, for the rain has gone; but soon the rustling of the leaves and the singing of a little bird bring back to life the earth and her creatures. The rain will come again. The earth has re-
